I need to determine if a Java application started by System has been started under SYSTEM's user account or under an administrative account. My goal is to set different JVM options for SYSTEM (which I can achieve with `java.security.Policy.setUserPermissions()`). For other users I want to allow them to run as an anonymous process. A: You can call `System.getSecurityManager()` and check the value of `getEffectiveUser()`, and see if it matches the current user.

Accessing the system security manager requires a bit more complexity, but this is one way to go about it. Cynthia Rylant Cynthia Rylant is an American author, illustrator, and filmmaker, and the author of 19 books for children and young adults. A former newspaper and magazine editor, she now works as a full-time author, primarily writing picture books. Biography Rylant was born in Bakersfield, California, and grew up in a musical family. She graduated from Colorado State University in 1990 with a degree in journalism. She now lives in Greeley, Colorado, with her husband, David, and their two sons, Sam and Max.
